AMBULANCE PILOT TO GET $450 IS PLAN

Sum to Be Raised in County By Monday Night to Pay Driver's Way

MOVEMENT STARTED BY ALUMNI OF STANFORD

Money Is to Be Collected By Free Will Method, Is Explained In L. A.

Between now and next Monday evening $450 is to be raised in Orange county with which to pay the expenses of an ambulance driver to serve a year on the battle front of France.

The money is to be raised by free will offering. The movement to raise this sum started at a Stanford alumni luncheon in Los Angeles yesterday. At that luncheon an address was made by a Stanford student who explained the method by which the American Ambulance Corps is maintained.

He said that the ambulance drivers are sent with money raised in the United States. It costs $450 per man. Several of the universities of this country have sent units to the front. Just now there is need for more ambulance drivers. Undergraduates at Stanford have enlisted to go. One unit of about forty men has already gone forward. Thirty more Stanford students have enlisted to go, and money has been raised to pay the expenses of only a part of these thirty men.

Raise Money By Monday

At the luncheon yesterday, R. J. McFadden of Anaheim, a Stanford graduate, former president of the Orange County Highway Commission, declared that this county would raise enough money to send one of the men to France. He said he had no hesitation in saying that the money would be raised in this county before next Monday night, by which time it must be raised if used by this unit.

McFadden returned to his home, and immediately he got to work. Last night he went to Elks lodge at Anaheim, and within a few minutes he had $75 of the $450.

Another Anaheim man who has become interested in the movement is D. Jessurun, superintendent of the Anaheim Sugar Co. As a committee man from the Anaheim Elks he was here today interviewing local Elks.

The appeal for funds is made to every man, woman and child.

Pass-the-Hat Plan

"We are not keeping any list of those who give," said McFadden. "We are making this a pass the hat proposition. If we can raise enough money by Monday night to send one ambulance driver to the front we will have accomplished a patriotic duty and will have grasped an opportunity for service."

Any person who wants to give any sum of money to the cause may leave it with John A. McFadden, Lester Jarden or T. E. Stephenson, who are Stanford men. W. W. Wasser at the Elks lodge, or at the Evening Blade office or at the Register office. The money will be assembled Monday afternoon, and will be joined with the money that McFadden, Jessurun and others will raise in the north end of the county.

500 U. S. FLAGS FLUTTER ON FRENCH FRONT

BY W. S. FORREST

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, May 10.—Five hundred "Old Glories" are fluttering on French battle fronts today. The enemy in his trenches "across the great divide" does not have to strain his eyes to see the Stars and Stripes flapping in the breeze on the most conspicuous parts of 500 ambulances of the American ambulance field service now with the French armies.

Teuton Socialists Back Submarines German Government's Views Told

BY JOHN GRANDENS, UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

BERLIN, via London, May 10.—Germany holds no reason for an offensive against America, but will not forego her present use of submarines for peace. The war can be ended only on the basis that no dishonorable terms be inflicted upon any nation.

These expressions were obtained today by the United Press from the two most diverse elements in Germany—the government and the socialists.

The government's view of America's entrance into the war was given in a statement authorized by the foreign office through the United Press.

Philip Scheidemann, socialist leader, voiced the views of the other extreme element which has been most active in recent peace propaganda. Both defended Germany's use of the submarines as her most potent means of defensive warfare and Scheidemann gave expression to the basis upon which the peace which he has admittedly been advocating, must be based.

The foreign office does not regard the torpedoing of American ships within the danger zone prescribed by Germany as a hostile act, as all countries were warned of its existence. The government regards this submarine warfare as its most valuable weapon and it will be continued within the announced area. It was pointed out that American ships were being attacked only in the danger zone.

Scheidemann regarded President Wilson's attitude as "incomprehensible" and declared that had the President continued his efforts for an understanding between the belligerents the war probably would have been ended long ago. "I expect good results from the conference of socialists in Stockholm," Scheidemann said, "but the war can be ended only upon a basis that no dishonorable terms be inflicted upon any nation."

The foreign office statement follows:

"As repeatedly declared, Germany holds there is no reason for an offensive against America. Germany is torpedoing American ships—but only in the danger zone, so does not consider this a hostile act, since all countries have been warned."

"The submarine warfare is proving one of the best means of defense for Germany and the war will be continued within the restricted zone."

"The obligations that Americans report to the police is a just measure undertaken by Germany against a nation warring on her. America is treating Germans in a similar fashion. Americans are unhampered in Germany."

(This is the first intimation that has been received from Germany that Americans are being held under police surveillance.) Scheidemann's statement reflected, like the foreign office declaration, German inability to understand America's position.

"I regret exceedingly the conflict between Germany and America," the socialist leader declared. "President Wilson's attitude is incomprehensible. His indulgence toward England has been as great as his harshness toward Germany."

"The German government regards the submarine warfare as a defense against England's violation of international law which it cannot withhold."

"Had President Wilson continued his efforts for an understanding between belligerents, this awful murder of their peoples probably would have been ended long ago. There is no hatred visible among the Germans against other people."

Since Karl Liebknecht's imprisonment, Philip Scheidemann has come to the fore as one of the foremost socialist leaders in Germany. He has been actively identified with the socialist peace movement and was a prime agitator of the Stockholm peace conference. The German government has recently given indication of Scheidemann's leadership of the radicals by appointing him chairman of the important constitution committee, which is charged with recommending changes in Germany's governmental system.

SLAV UKASE WARNS OF PERIL IN DISPUTE

Strife Between Duma and the Soldiers and Workmen Menacing, Admission

COALITION RULE IS ASKED IN PETROGRAD

Government Frankness In Its Plea Creates Favorable Response By People

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PETROGRAD, May 10.—Frank admission that free Russia's future is darkly menaced by the quarrel between the Duma provisional government and soldiers' and workmen's committee was made in striking phrases of a proclamation posted today throughout Petrograd, inviting a coalition government.

"The provisional government cannot conceal from the people that of late its difficulties have increased to such an extent as to give rise to serious fears for the future of the government," the proclamation declared. After listing in detail the various reforms which had been achieved under the new regime, in conformity with pledges to the people, the Duma leaders referred to the later friction and said:

"The provisional government sought to rely on moral forces. Not a drop of the people's blood has been shed by its fault. No voice has been stifled."

Anarchy Acts Cited

"Unfortunately, the new socialist elements are too slowly welding—and unsatisfactorily. The welding has been hampered by the process of integration provoked by the collapse of the old regime. Isolated groups of certain classes of the population, lacking conscientiousness, seek to realize their aspirations through violence. They threaten to destroy discipline and internal policy and thus create anarchy."

"Therefore, the provisional government believes it a duty to declare frankly this state of things is rendering the administration of the country difficult. It may lead to internal disorders, defeat at the front, anarchy and civil war—threatening the liberty which arises before Russia."

Continuing, the proclamation appealed to the efforts of all to strengthen the power by safeguarding it.

"The government," the proclamation concluded, "desires to reinforce its composition by inviting to join with it representatives of the liver creative forces of the country who hitherto have not taken an active part in the administration of the state."

Free Response to Plea

The government's complete frankness in this appeal to the people created favorable response today. All newspapers comment at length on it. Those regarded as favoring Foreign Minister Milukoff joined in declaring "double power in Russia is impossible."

"Directly challenging the government," said one of Milukoff's organs, "the workmen's and soldiers' committee has ordered that no troops leave the barracks without signed permission of the commission. Power over the troops is thus transferred from the commander in chief to the committee. No workmen can agree to such a situation."

Maxim Gorky's newspaper today proclaims such a state of affairs as revealed in the present crisis is "unendurable."

The appeal of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to Russian workmen to stand by the government and firm for freedom, was widely published today.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Ad Santel, local wrestler, and Martin Plestina, who claims decisions over Strangler Lewis and Jack Taylor, will meet here Tuesday night.

ANTI-DIVER DEVICE TURNED OUT EVERY 4 MINUTES, SHOWN

WASHINGTON, May 10.—American brains are turning out anti-submarine inventions at the rate of one about every four minutes.

More than one thousand devices have been submitted to the navy department in a few days, it was ascertained today. Some of them contain the germ of usefulness, though most of them are impracticable.

The past year probably 8000 inventions or suggestions have been turned into the office of Captain Wm. S. Smith, chief of the inventions bureau, while England in the same time probably had 35,000.

ALLIES PIERCE FOE'S DEFENSE AT NEW POINTS

Haig and Nivelle Score Additional Gains Against Hindenburg Armies

BERLIN, May 10.—Fresnoy is completely in German hands, despite repeated British attacks, the war office today announced. At Bullecourt the fighting fluctuates, said the statement.

PETROGRAD, May 10.—Artillery has been resumed over nearly the entire Russian front, especially in the Dvina region, it was today announced. A German attack of Selitchoff has been sanguinely repulsed.

LONDON, May 10.—With the British offensive deadlocked around Fresnoy and Bullecourt, Field Marshal Haig struck in a new direction today and captured a portion of the German front and support lines south of the Souchez river, just south of Lens. His official report today announced the capture of a number of prisoners.

Despite the apparent deadlock at Bullecourt, the British commander reported success and gains by his forces in the face of tremendous losses inflicted on the Germans in their repeated efforts to counter-attack and shake the British grip.

To the east of Grocourt, Haig reported a further advance.

"At Bullecourt yesterday was severe and continuous," Haig's report said. "We progressed despite repeated and costly enemy attempts to shake our hold on his positions, which were all unsuccessful."

"To the east of Grocourt our line advanced, also to the south of the Souchez river, where we captured a portion of the enemy's front and support lines and took a number of prisoners."

The Germans evidently regard Fresnoy as a key to Douai, which is itself one of the main German depots behind the Hindenburg line, and propose to stop further British progress there with every resource at their command.

"Northeast of Lieven and south of Lullich, enemy raiding parties were driven off," the report continued. "To the north of Givenchy and Lezail Basse, we carried out a successful raid."

NIVELLE'S TROOPS SCORE ADDITIONAL GAINS

PARIS, May 10.—More gains by General Nivelle's French troops in repulsing an attack in the region of Chevreux and a widening of the French wedge on the German lines across the northern slope of the plateau of Vauclerc, were detailed in today's official statement.

German counter-attacks of great force were struck during the night against several parts of the French lines along Chemin-des-Dames, the war office said. All were unsuccessful. The most powerful of these blows was upon the positions taken by the French in the region of Chevreux. So successful were the French in repulsing this violent assault that they moved forward themselves in following it up. Capture of a fortified German position was announced in the official statement as the net result.

On the northern slope of the plateau of Vauclerc the French succeeded in widening their grip, taking a number of prisoners belonging to a new German division. There were patrol and skirmish engagements all along the remainder of the front.

T. R. ARMY CLAUSE IN BILL IS KILLED

Amendment Providing Volunteer Cavalry Border Patrol Also Eliminated

SPEEDY O. K. IN BOTH HOUSES LOOKED FOR

Committee Retains Prohibition Proviso Barring Sale of Liquor to Soldiers

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Eliminating the Roosevelt division amendment from the selective service bill, house and senate conferees on the army measure reached an agreement today and will report to their respective houses as quickly as their findings can be put into shape.

The conferees also eliminated the amendment providing for a force of volunteer cavalry to patrol the border.

The clause prohibiting the furnishing of liquor to uniformed men remains in the draft bill as agreed upon by the conferees.

The age limits of those subject to the selective draft was set at 21 to 30.

It is believed that the demands of the country and the administration will hasten the bill's approval in both houses.

President Wilson is awaiting only Congressional action before issuing his proclamation for selective service registration.

It is now believed that the first 500,000 men will be selected within three months.

TO DEBATE REVENUE TILL SATURDAY, BELIEF

WASHINGTON, May 10.—It is today believed that the revenue debate will continue into Saturday.

Northern congressmen claim that southern members have unnecessarily burdened the north to save the south war taxes.

Chairman Kitchin predicts that the nation will spend five billion in a year.

Many attacked the proposed five per cent tax on autos and new tires.

The Senate today killed parts of the espionage bill giving the Postoffice department autocratic powers. A vote on the bill is expected by tomorrow night.

LABOR WAIVES 8-HOUR RULE DURING EMERGENCY

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Organized labor has offered to permit the abrogation of the eight-hour rule and other rights during emergencies. The offer is in "fullest co-operation with the government, without surrender of the right to strike." It was made after a conference with the National Defense Council.

ESPEE TRAFFIC HALTS AS TUNNEL CAVES IN

SAUGUS, Cal., May 10.—Main line traffic was delayed several hours today by the caving in of part of a tunnel on the Southern Pacific early this morning. A force of section men removed the mud from the tracks after a few hours of work.

PACIFIC COAST TO BUILD 1000 WOODEN SHIPS

Vessels to Be of 2000 Tons Each; Captain Pillsbury to Supervise Work

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—To shipbuilders of the Pacific Coast will fall the task of building cargo-carrying vessels faster than the Kaiser's submarines can sink them.

Telegrams from Washington to local shipping firms today confirmed the report that 1000 wooden vessels of 2000 tons each, will be built on the coast immediately under the direct supervision of the United States shipping board.

Captain A. F. Pillsbury will supervise the construction. The ship building capacity of every harbor will be estimated and the construction of a certain number of vessels will be assigned to each. The government will guarantee the delivery of lumber, will furnish knees picked by experts and complete plans and specifications. Government inspectors will be assigned to each yard.

Seven hundred of the 1000 vessels will be equipped with steam engines and 300 with Diesel engines. The shipping board already has arranged for the delivery of the engines as fast as the vessels are completed.

Contracts for ten steel steamers, larger than the wooden boats, have already been awarded to Seattle firms and San Francisco steel plants expect at least ten similar contracts.

ORTEGA, BARRIEU DRAW

OAKLAND, May 10.—Battling Ortega and Frank Barrieau fought four rounds to a draw here last night. Barrieau had the edge in the first two rounds.

Germans, are 500 young Americans from almost every state in the Union. From now on the American ambulance service is prepared to augment its army of ambulances by one section a week—from 25 to 30 Ford cars in a section. As each car rumbles away from the Paris headquarters at 21 Rue Raynouard, an American flag is firmly fixed on the top where the enemy will have no difficulty in seeing that he is now fighting more than the famous French tri-color on those parts of the front held by the French.

The first section to carry the flag to the front was commanded by A. I. Henderson, of New York City, a volunteer from Harvard. The personnel included Keith Vosburg, Azusa, Cal., University of California.

PEACE TALK IN TEUTON PAPERS BEING REVIVED

Mystery Hides Time Imperial Chancellor Will Outline Kaiser's Terms

PETROGRAD, May 10.—The extreme wing of the Russian Socialists has decided not to attend the Stockholm Socialists' conference, considering that their attendance there would be considered pro-German.

AMSTERDAM, May 10.—Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg is to announce Germany's general peace terms, but when, or in what form, German dispatched today did not disclose. Presumably it will be in a speech in the Reichstag, but the German assembly is scheduled to adjourn within a week. One report today fixed Monday as the date, but this was unconfirmed elsewhere.

In the meantime German newspapers revived peace discussions. The Bavarian Staats Zeitung, credited with being the mouthpiece of the Bavarian Count Hertling, publishes an editorial insisting that Germany does not desire war indemnities but will insist as a prime requisite to end hostilities that Germany have every facility to obtain raw material for her manufactures; that her foreign trade shall be granted every opportunity to develop; that all seized German ships be returned and that German colonies be transferred back to the government.

Other German newspapers view the Staats Zeitung's editorial as inspired from the recent visit to Berlin of Count Hertling.

BERNSTORFF TO BE ENVOY TO SWEDEN, REPORT

BY ARTHUR E. MANN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

COPENHAGEN, May 10.—Germany is so concerned about the recent tremendous increase in pro-ally sentiment in Sweden—due to America's entry into the war—that she is probably going to send her most expert propagandist there as ambassador. He is Count von Bernstorff, formerly envoy to Washington.

4 BRITISH WAR CRAFT ROUT 11 FOES IN CLASH

Teuton Destroyer Hit As Sea Terrors of England Pursue Enemy to Zeebrugge

LONDON, May 10.—Eight British cruisers and four destroyers on patrol between the British and Dutch coasts encountered eleven German destroyers. The four British destroyers chased the enemy an hour and a half in a running fight, until within range of the Zeebrugge land batteries. German destroyers were hit.

LONDON, May 10.—A destroyer action in which four British vessels pursued eleven German destroyers to within range of the batteries at Zeebrugge was announced in an admiral's statement today.

"One of the enemy destroyers had been hit by our fire," the statement said.

The admiral did not specify the British destroyers engaged.

The admiral's statement indicated the Germans, despite their superior force, made a running fight of it, with drawing toward Zeebrugge.

RED CROSS WILL NEED MANY SUPPLIES

Headquarters Now In Working Order, and Is Giving Out Garments

The hospital supply committee of the Red Cross has commenced its work and its desire at this time is to provide four boxes of these supplies as quickly as possible. Garments have already been given out and a general working basis has been arranged by the committee. The headquarters in the Spurgeon building is in working order now.

The following has been issued from the headquarters:

The hospital supply committee has begun its work, garments have already been given out, cutting will be done in the forenoon and work may be taken out and finished work returned in the afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. If any one has an extra hour or two when downtown, and wishes to sew at headquarters, she may do so at that time. If you do not or cannot sew or knit, and wish to do something, there is always the gift list from which you may select something to contribute.

There are four boxes of hospital supplies (not surgical) this committee is to supply. Many things must be made, but others may be bought. Who will give a cotton blanket (price from $1.50 to $2.50), from which may be made a convalescent gown, a pair of red socks and a hot water bottle cover? Who will give sheets, bath towels, pillows, etc? We need dozens of these things and surely you can help supply old tissue paper patterns, clean, soft cloth, which will be used for making ambulance pillows, old white muslin and white linen. And most of all, who can and will knit wool socks—the most needed and the most difficult article to obtain in the whole list?

Our telephone number is 1414-J. Call up and Mrs. Magill will be always ready to answer all questions or receive you at headquarters from 10 a. m. to 12 m. and from 1:30 to 5 p. m.

SMOKES-FOR-SOLDIERS MOVE HOTLY ASSAILED

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—The smoke of battle is all a number of Los Angeles people want the soldiers to enjoy. Since the Red Cross headquarters have recently asked for contributions of tobacco, cigarette papers and pipes for the men of the army, a number of violent protests against furnishing "makins" have been registered, some declaring it will degenerate the men, or lead them to vices. However, the flood of tobacco and containers continues to arrive—and be sent to the troops.

JAPAN IS ACTIVE IN SO. AMERICA, SHOWN

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Additional competition for our new merchant marine has already established itself. Consular reports just received from Buenos Aires tell of the inauguration of a regular line of Japanese cargo steamers between Japan and Brazil and Argentina.

The Osaka Mercantile Steamship Co. of Tokyo projected the line, and one vessel, the Kasato Maru (5,209 tons) already is in service. The line will touch at Vladivostok, Chinese ports, Singapore, Durban and Cape Town, in addition to South American ports.

Brazilian ports are reported to have contracted for large numbers of Japanese colonists to help harvest the coffee crop.

GORDON GROCERY PASSES TO NEW OWNERS

Former Grocymen of Fayetteville, Arkansas, Assume Management This Week

The Gordon Grocery Company has sold its business to J. C. Peal and H. H. Drake, the new owners taking possession the first of this week. Messrs. Peal and Drake came to Santa Ana about three weeks ago from Fayetteville, Ark., where they were engaged in a similar line of business. Both gentlemen are experienced grocers and state they have come here with the intention of becoming permanent residents, having been attracted by the exceptional climatic conditions of this section.

The new firm has not decided definitely the name it will adopt for its store, but for the present will continue under the name of the Gordon Grocery Company.

Mr. Gordon has been in the grocery business here for several years and has built up a very satisfactory trade. He states that he expects to remain here, but has not as yet any definite plans for the future.

FINISHING UPPER STORY FOR RED MEN'S LODGE

New Lodge Quarters Being Built In Lawrence Building On West Fourth

The work of finishing the upper story of the H. W. Lawrence building on West Fourth street for use as a lodge room is nearing completion. T. S. Weston, contractor, is in charge.

The second story has been leased by the Santa Ana Tribe of Red Men and it is expected that other lodges will take leases and hold their regular meetings there.

Lodge room, banquet hall, club parlors and lodge offices are being arranged, and when the plans are completed the quarters will be ideal for lodge purposes.

The improvements will cost between $3,500 and $4,000.

OSHKOSH MEN PLAN PEARL BUTTON PLANT

OSHKOSH, Wis., May 10.—The establishment of a plant to manufacture pearl buttons is being planned by business men here. The finished product would be made from clam shells taken from the Wolf and Fox rivers. Shell gathering has become an extensive industry at Fremont, it being estimated that from $60,000 to $80,000 worth of shells was shipped from that city alone in the past year.

ARCTIC EXPLORATION SALE BRINGS $1138

NEW YORK, May 10.—Narratives of Arctic exploration were sold at the first session of the sale in the Anderson galleries of the library of the late Walter C. Stephenson of New York.

For the 341 lots sold a total of $1,138 was paid. "Voyage of Discovery to the North Pacific Ocean and Round the World," by Captain George Vancouver, was purchased by W. H. Sparks for $40.

BALTIMORE PARKS TO BE TRUCK FARMS

BALTIMORE, May 10.—To help remedy the danger of any shortage of food in this city after war is declared, the city officials decided to utilize about 1,000 acres of lawns in city parks for truck farming. The park board appointed several of its experts to lay off the grounds and it is likely that work will be started on the farms next week.

HUMBOLDT POTATO MEN GIVEN LAND ADVICE

FORTUNA, Cal., May 10.—Farmers of southern Humboldt county are receiving advice and information regarding the best methods of making their land yield the best and biggest crops of potatoes, at a meeting being held by the State Horticultural Commission here today. It is part of a campaign now in progress to increase California's potato production.

George P. Weldon, deputy state horticultural commissioner, and Eugene H. Grubb, potato expert, are conducting the meeting. Tomorrow a similar meeting will be held at Eureka.

SANTA ANA BOYS HAVE EXCITING FISHING TRIP

Jas. Livesey, Jr., and Nelson Edgar Caught In Snow Storm in Bear Valley

James Livesey, Jr., and Nelson Edgar are home from a fishing trip in the San Bernardino mountains which was filled with thrills.

The boys started out Sunday morning at 2 o'clock in the Livesey Ford roadster and 7:30 found them at Butler Point, about six miles this side of Big Bear Valley, after pushing through snow a foot deep at points on the road.

At Butler point they deserted their car and walked down to Holcomb creek where they expected to remain a couple of days. The first day's fishing there brought them twenty-five fine trout and at night the boys went to bed in camp with visions of the limit on the morrow.

Snow and rain during the night, however, determined them in starting for home the next morning, and when they regained the point where they left their car they started homeward, snow and rain were beating against the auto top and windshield. Despite the inclement weather they halted at Deep Creek for a period of fishing and landed 35 speckled beauties. It was home for them. With the road covered with snow and slippery they drove cautiously down the Arrowhead grade. The tires of the machine were equipped with chains and yet many times the rear of the car was where the front end should have been, imperiling the lives of the boys who started out for pleasure. All the while Livesey was laboring to keep the nose of the car pointed in the right direction they could not see more than fifty feet ahead of the car because of the snow and rain.

On their trip into the valley they went further in than any fishermen have been so far. They were the last to drive a machine out and consider themselves lucky that they got out at all. Had they been a few hours later they probably would have had to remain in the mountains for a week or two, until the snow cleared away.

SICK WIFE'S STORY SURPRISES SANTA ANA

The following has surprised Santa Ana: A business man's wife suffered from dyspepsia and constipation for years. Although she dieted she was so bloated her clothes would not fit. ONE SPOONFUL buckhorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adier-ka relieved her INSTANTLY. Because Adier-ka empties BOTH large and small intestine it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. KELLER DIES OF INJURIES IN ACCIDENT

Passed Away at Hospital Yesterday Afternoon Without Regaining Senses

Fred Keller, who was injured on the state highway below Aliso creek Sunday night when his car turned over, died late yesterday afternoon at the Santa Ana hospital without having regained consciousness. The body being held at Smith & Tutthill's, funeral arrangements being deferred for a time.

Mrs. Keller and Mrs. Frank McCauley, who were injured at the same time, are improving a little, both having brief periods of consciousness a time. Mrs. Keller has not been informed of her husband's death.

SUGGESTS JOIN IN APPEAL TO MAKE NATION DRY IN WAR

Superior Judge Thomas Proposes That Night Letters Be Sent to President

"If prohibition of the sale of liquor to the soldier and sailor is a good thing in order to bring about greater efficiency, in view of the President's appeal to all for greater efficiency along all lines, why the limitation?" asked Superior Judge W. H. Thomas today. "Why not prohibit the sale to all? I can conceive of no more important and far-reaching step toward national defense.

"I was much moved by the patriotic action of Mr. H. S. Dulaney, a business man of Baltimore, the other day, when he sent to the President a telegram of which the following is a copy:

"Baltimore, Md., April 14, 1917.

"Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.—For God's sake, for Humanity's sake, for the Nation's welfare, I earnestly and urgently appeal to you to use your influence to prohibit, during the war at least, the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors throughout the nation, which traffic causes waste of more than two billion dollars yearly and is destroying soul, mind and body of the drinker.

"If the Capital dry, why not the nation.

"HENRY S. DULANEY.

"A drop of ink makes millions think."

"If a million citizens of the United States would each send a telegraphic night letter like, or similar to the above, to President Woodrow Wilson, it would make the world think. Are you willing to do your 'bit' to make the world think?

"As was so well said by Mr. Vanderbilt the other day, and I now adopt and make his language my own, I believe we are facing a serious test of our national character and efficiency, and am firmly convinced that a national prohibition measure would be of ramenading importance in its effect upon the national spirit in conserving and increasing our food supply and in raising the efficiency of the nation.

The man power released from the liquor industries could be directed into other productive channels where he need for labor will be acute and thus be readily absorbed. The needs of the agricultural and industrial situation will make this a peculiarly opportune time to put through a national prohibition law with minimum shock to our economic machinery during the adjustment. The business interest of the plants can be readily converted to important industrial uses, the plea that the government revenue will be seriously curtailed should not influence action; for Prohibition will induce a national efficiency which will open new and far richer sources of revenue.

"The following statistics, which I note from the Christian Science Monitor under date of the 2nd inst., to my mind not only challenge the attention of every fair-minded person, but are so convincing that the question whether it is for the best interest of the nation to adopt prohibition at this time is not debatable.

"Aside from the harm the liquor traffic is doing the country as a demoralizing agency, it is eating into the food supply at a rate which is little appreciated by the public. Of the grain raised in the United States last year, 118,000,000 bushels went into the manufacture of liquor. From these statistics prepared by those who have carried on an investigation into the subject, it is shown that the disorders of the nation are turning into a yearly 32,000,000 bushels of corn, 3,000,000 of rye, and 5,000,000 of wheat, oats and other grain.

The brewers consume 10,000,000 bushels of corn, 37,500,000 bushels of rye and 12,000,000 bushels of wheat, the grain used in the manufacture of liquors, 116,000,000 gallons of molasses and 60,000,000 pounds of hops must be added. It may be held that all of these would not enter into the food supply, but at least the labor employed would do so. Moreover, it is thoroughly established that liquor is the worst foe of human energy, and the greatest deterrent to activity, and consequently to industry, of which there is today any knowledge.

"I feel that public opinion but slightly comprehends the seriousness of the test this war will put us to. National prohibition measures would do much to wake up the people to a realization of what war means and demands. If in the end we got no other good from the war than prohibition, we would still be winners because of it. I believe it should be complete and it can only be complete by being national. I am going to send my night letter tonight. Are you?"

DEATH SUMMONS PIONEER OF THIS CITY

B. F. Townsend Stricken Tuesday Dies at West Fifth Home Last Night

B. F. Townsend, pioneer resident of this section, died last night at his home, 1108 West Fifth street, following a brief illness. He would have been 83 years of age the 22nd of next month.

Funeral services will be held at Mills & Winbiger's chapel Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Royal Arch Masons. He leaves a son and daughter, Ernest F. Townsend, of Stockton, and Mrs. Mabel T. Lowell of this city, with whom he resided.

Mr. Townsend was found Tuesday morning in an unconscious condition by his daughter. He was in his library working over financial papers when he was stricken and did not fully regain consciousness.

With the exception of a brief period he had been a resident of Orange county for forty-two years. He was a successful farmer and accumulated an estate estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000.

He was born at Farmington, Me., June 22, 1834. He came to California in 1874 from Baxter Springs, Kan., where he had been engaged in the boot and shoe business, following the trade of shoemaker in his early life. He crossed the plains with a mule team, locating first at San Bernardino, engaging in the general merchandise business in Bear Valley for a year. In 1875 he came to Garden Grove and engaged in farming, where he resided for seventeen years, closing his residence there to go to the Santa Clara Valley, Cal., where he remained for six years. He returned to Santa Ana nineteen years ago, locating at 1108 West Fifth.

While he had been in failing health for some time, he was active up to the time he was stricken Tuesday morning.

He was a member of Santa Ana Lodge No. 241, F. and A. M.

LAFAYETTE MONUMENT UNVEILING SEEN BY FRENCH WAR MISSION

NEW YORK, May 10.—Chief among today's program features arranged for the French commission, which was accorded a rousing reception here, was to be the unveiling of the Lafayette monument in Prospect Park, Brooklyn. Degrees were to be presented to members of both the French and British war missions on the steps of Columbia University library. Immediately thereafter Marshal Joffre was to lay a wreath upon the sarcophagus at Grant's tomb. Other details will run the program far into the night.

HOES AND RAKES BEING WIELDED WITH TELLING EFFECT

Many Property Owners Clean Premises In Advance of Big Campaign Day

Many property owners are not going to wait until Saturday, May 19, to clean up their premises—they are doing it now.

The campaign being arranged for the 19th is for a general co-operative effort on that date, but residents do not necessarily have to wait until that date. They have the privilege, so far as the committee is concerned, of following their own sweet will in this matter. The big day will be devoted to those places which are not cleaned up prior to that date.

Vacant lots and curbs in various parts of the city are being cleaned up by their owners. The hoe and rake are being used with a vim. It has been observed by some of those deeply interested in the work of ridding the city of weeds, trash, etc., that some property owners have cleared vacant lots of weeds and piled them in the street, evidently expecting them to be hauled away by the city.

While it is expected the city council will co-operate in the movement to the extent of providing teams and wagons to haul away trash gathered up in the cleaning process, no definite promise has yet been made. Even in the event the city gives the use of its teams and wagon, big piles of weeds accumulating from the clearing of a lot will not be hauled away. Owners are advised to burn the weeds on the lot and not carry them to the street.

LONG-DELAYED TRIAL OF MEN CHARGED AS PLOTTERS IS BEGUN

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—After being delayed for nearly four years, the trial of Balthazar Aviles, Geronimo Sandoval, Charley Guzman, Francisco Ayon, W. K. Bowker and Harry Chandler on charges of conspiracy to violate American neutrality, started today in the federal district court. The specific charge is that in 1914, the defendants recruited men to go to Lower California and join a revolution against the Mexican government, arranged for the purchase of arms and ammunition, and for the storage of this between San Diego and El Centro. Gen. B. J. Viljoen, Mexican soldier, who died recently, was also a defendant in the case. It is alleged the others acted as his agents, and were paid by him.

AMERICAN NATIONS CONGRESS TO MEET AT BUENOS AIRES SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, May 10.—It was learned today that Argentine wants a congress of American nations to meet at Buenos Aires. This congress is first called a "peace congress" and then "commercial congress." It is not known just what idea there is behind the plan. Several South American countries have accepted the plan.

REGISTRATION OF 360 WAR STUDENTS BEGINS AT PRESIDIO TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Registration of 360 students, the first large increment to enter the officers' reserve corps training school, began at the Presidio today. Tents near the entrance served as registration offices and throughout the morning the men were presenting themselves for enrollment. Tomorrow another contingent arrives and more will be added each day until the entire membership of the camp, 2500, is enrolled. About 100 men already commissioned in the reserve corps, were in camp previous to this morning.

It is expected every man will be on a "make good" basis. Men already commissioned who fail to meet the tests will be placed on the inactive list, as will men who may be commissioned before the camp closes.

BOX OF CHOCOLATES USED TO MAKE ARREST

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Candy is more effective than bullets in capturing men wanted by the government for alleged crime, Larry Condon, deputy U. S. Marshal, found out. U. S. Marshal Holohan sent Larry, prize gunman, into the "badlands" near Greenville, accused of selling liquor to Indians.

When he came upon the men, Larry, instead of drawing a gun, handed them a box of chocolates and they arrested them while they were eating it.

The men are in jail at Sacramento awaiting trial and Larry is back in the federal building boasting that a box of candy is worth more than a gun.

LAW CURBING WEAPON CARRYING IS SIGNED

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—Marks' bill regulating the carrying, possession and sale of firearms has been signed by Governor Stephens and will become effective within a month. It prohibits the sale of firearms to persons under 18; prohibits the manufacture and carrying of blackjacks, sandbags, metal knuckles, etc., and requires dealers to keep an official record of all sales.
The Alameda and Los Angeles county additional superior judge bills also have been given the governor's signature.

WITH HAMMER AND TONGS WILL COME TO MARKET

Public Market Master Balderston Circulates Among Produce Growers

"The vegetable growers of Harper are coming to the Santa Ana public market with hammer and tongs," said Geo. Balderston, market master, today.

Balderston made an auto tour through the Harper, Garden Grove and Anaheim sections this morning, and everywhere received the greatest encouragement from growers.

"We will open the public market Saturday of next week with twenty-five or more stalls," said Balderston. "The growers of garden truck whom I met this morning are very enthusiastic over the market and promised to be on hand when the market is opened."

"All take pride in the character of truck they raise and none but the best will be found in the stalls."

One man at Harper told me that he was a wholesaler, but that he would be represented in the market with a variety of high grade produce."

GIRLS WHO WILL WEAR OVERALLS SOUGHT AS PICKERS OF CHERRIES

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—P. E. Gammon, prominent fruit grower of Sacramento county, has placed an order with the state employment bureau for ten girls to pick cherries. The pay offered is $1.25 a day and board and it is specified that no girls will be accepted unless they are willing to wear overalls while at work.

GIRL'S APPENDIX IS VALUED AT $250, SHE TELLS POSTAL CLERK

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 10.—Please register this package, sir. It's value? Why it cost me $250, and it can't be replaced.
Thus rapidly spoke a young woman to Oscar Arm, postal clerk.
Then she explained that it was her appendix, and that she was shipping it to her friend as a souvenir.

PRICE OF TRIBUNE IN CHICAGO IS BOOSTED

CHICAGO, May 10.—The Chicago Tribune (morning) announced today that on May 14 its price would be raised from 1 to 2 cents. The Examiner and the Herald (morning) and the American (afternoon) made similar announcements recently.

CUSTOM OF RINGING ANGELUS IS REVIVED

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 10.—This morning at 6 o'clock, the Mission bells rang for the angelus. For thirty years the angelus has not sounded in this parish. For a hundred years previous to that it was rung, and now the old Catholic observance is revived. Morning, noon and night the bells of the old mission will call the devout to silent prayer.

BOTH PLAYERS AND PLAY MAKE A HIT AT OPERA HOUSE

Santa Ana is very seldom given so rare a theatrical treat as the visit of William H. Crane and his company to the Grand last night, in their production of "The Happy Stranger." The play itself is a remarkably beautiful one, clean, sweet and wholesome, yet sparkling with wit and sprinkled with laughter from start to finish.

Mr. Crane has been traveling toward the sunset now for many years, and he gathers unto himself a charm and an understanding that deepens and grows more perfect with the passing years. His portrayal of "The Happy Stranger" is a gem to be remembered and smiled over for many days.

Eva Le Gallienne is another notable member of the cast. She is the 17-year-old daughter of the poet, Richard Le Gallienne, and the prestige of her father's name is no doubt an added interest, but if her father were the maker of very poor bricks instead of the writer of very beautiful poetry, Eva Le Gallienne would be a personage just the same. Her work as Patricia Malloy was altogether perfect.

Raymond Van Sickle as Billy Booth and Susanne Morgan as Mrs. Sylvester were thoroughly delightful, as was amply proven by the constant ripples of laughter, their work provoked. William T. Clark was a correctly pompous Dr. Sylvester, and pretty Betty Tracy fitted the role of Edith Sylvester as well as her pretty gowns fitted her. The cast and the production were notable ones and an unusually appreciative audience enjoyed it to the full.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

THE LIBERTY LOAN

Early indications are that the $2,000,000,000 war issue, given the happy title, "The Liberty Loan," will be greatly oversubscribed by the banks of the country before the treasury books close on June 15. The attitude of the bankers in every section has been most encouraging. The attitude of the public, which is dependent on to absorb the big issue, should be even more enthusiastic.

It is a great popular loan for a great national purpose. A British statesman remarked early in the war that the victory would be determined by "the last $500,000,000." It will probably fall to us to provide that last decisive loan. But before it is reached there must be many billions poured into the allied war treasury. The present issue, 2,000,000,000 "golden bullets," is but the beginning.

The magnitude of the sums wanted need frighten no one. They are huge, but small compared with our national resources and our individual ability to contribute. We have been a nation of wasters. It is estimated that we have used up $5,000,000,000 a year in careless management of our personal affairs, and in unnecessary expenditures for indulgence and amusements. Our extravagance, on the whole, may have done us no great harm, but it is no longer excusable. We have better uses for our money now.

Wise retrenchment is a universal duty. We must "save to win," putting our savings into war bonds. The money will go to pay the operating expenses of the armies and navies that are fighting the battle of world-democracy.

This is not merely a duty. It is a privilege to every man or woman capable of patriotic inspiration. It is a pleasure to contribute in such a cause.

But never has patriotism paid bigger material dividends than it will pay in this case. As the New York Times well says: "Every dollar spent for the liberty loan helps those working for the common cause. Every dollar the nation spends comes back with interest to those who enable the nation to spend it. The money is borrowed to spend. The spending means wages and prosperity for the thrifty. To save a dollar and lend it to your country or our allies is to benefit yourself equally, and to provide the funds to ease life for those perhaps unable to lend to the country."

"There is no way of spending such sums without producing what are called good times—that is, the free circulation of funds with rising prices. Such an outpouring of wage funds, such a sure source of profits, was never in sight before."

The loan will pay dividends which, though not high, should be satisfactory considering that they are non-taxable. The bonds are a good investment for personal funds because they are as good as cash for all sorts of financial purposes—they will be accepted in payment for almost any purchase or obligation, or as security for loans—and they are superior to cash because they draw interest. They offer the best possible investment of trust funds, for they are absolutely the soundest securities in the world.

Other forms of investment generally are quiescent just now, taking a back seat while the Liberty Loan goes through. They may well do so, for their turn will come. The money isn't leaving the country. It is merely being assembled for redistribution. These billions will soon be flowing faster than ever through all the business arteries and veins of the nation. And the quicker we buy the bonds, the more the process will be accelerated.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

Most of us probably have to look in the atlas to find where Costa Rica is. Many of us may be surprised to learn that it's a country, not a city. But don't scorn Costa Rica. Though small in size and insignificant in power, she is noble in spirit, and she has proved herself a staunch friend at a time when friends are especially welcome.

In a formal message to our government, the government of Costa Rica declares: "It is the duty of all American republics to support, at least morally, the noble attitude assumed by the United States in defense of law, right, justice and democracy. The republic of Costa Rica regrets that because of its lack of material strength it cannot in this crisis tender to the United States a more substantial co-operation. But if it might be permitted to demonstrate its solidarity with the government and people of its great sister republic of the north in such a manner, for instance, as by permitting the use of its waters and ports for war needs by the American navy, that form of co-operation would be undertaken with the greatest satisfaction."

There is no question as to "permitting" Costa Rica to co-operate with us in this way, because the privilege she tenders will help us in the task of safe-guarding the Panama Canal. But the spirit shown by this little neighbor is valued more than her material aid. Fortunately, too, it is the spirit of nearly all Latin-America.

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Swearing Off

This column hereby takes a pledge never again to notice the anonymous letter that reaches it. Therefore the mongrel scandal monger is at liberty to turn loose if by the act he relieves his system of venom. Without some vent for his poison, he might die of it, which, considering the place to which he would go, would be too bad.

Hereafter every communication reaching his desk shall be glanced at for a signature, and if there be no signature, it will drop into the waste basket unread.

The reason for this is the absence of desire to hold communication with a coward, a traitor or a mental weakling. Moreover, it is exceedingly irritating to become filled with the impulse to fight a snake, and not to be able to land on the snake.

Our Rising Bread

Bread is going up. It is not self-rising, but being boosted.

To regret the additional expense is natural, and yet there is many a man kicking about it, who pays 15 cents for a cigar and never whimpers. Scientists are unanimous in the belief that there is more nutriment in a loaf of bread than in a cigar.

Arithmetic

Recently a man applying for a marriage license gave his age as forty-eight. Three years before when in quest of a similar document his sworn age had been fifty-four.

Either the chap has discovered the system of growing younger, or his arithmetic is bad, probably the latter, as he had given out hundreds of dollars in checks against a bank account of $2.60, and when he stood up with No. 2 calmly ignored the circumstance that No. 1 was still in the flesh.

There ought to be a night school at the place to which they send him.

Telling Terms

Von Hollweg, as was recently announced, was about to state the German terms of peace. He doesn't know them, for there aren't any.

The final terms of peace will be arranged with the world as judge and jury, and Germany convicted, standing at the bar waiting for what is coming.

A School of Sharks

A school of sharks swarmed upon the legislators of California and forced some of them to endorse a usury bill of the most extreme brutality.

No legislator who enrolls himself as pupil in a shark school will win a diploma worth having.

Friendship

Because a man was a neighbor and friend I voted to send him to the capital to make laws.

He favored a measure condemning the dog to a torture chamber. No longer is he my friend, but the dog is; and a dog's friendship is worth having.

Conscription

With conscription in force a lot of the rowdies who lined the curb to cheer at the volunteers marching by would themselves be in the ranks, and many useful young men would still continue to be useful in ordinary occupations.

In Hard Luck

American correspondents in Germany are said to have been requested to leave.

This certainly will be tough on those among them who have been kowtowing before the Kaiser. Whatever they may be over there, here they will be aliens.

The Limit of Faith

Believing the teaching of "Saint Ella," a Los Angeles negress who found that being a saint beat taking in washing, a property owner gave her free use of a house. There she gathered about her a lot of queer people whose brains sloshed audibly when they nodded.

Finally "Saint Ella" announced the impending birth of a divine son who was to be her own, yet white. Ella is the tint of a shoe. At this point the property owner weakened and demanded his house back.

It seems that while any crank may gather a following, there is a limit to faith.

Fixing Prices

Because a flower vender with a push-cart may fix his own prices, and a railroad can't, a commentator says, "Funny, isn't it?"

It is not. The flower is a luxury, and it cannot be monopolized. A push-cart laden with flowers is not a public utility. If displeased at prices, the would-be purchaser of flowers may go else-where or go without. He is at liberty to start a garden of his own. He can't build railroads.

FATHER AND SON DIE FIGHTING FOR FRANCE

PARIS, April 15 (by mail)—Under Lieutenant Edouard Rey, Sr., 50, and Poult Edouard Rey, Jr., 18, father and son, died together in the same battle. Official records have just told the story. The two Reys left wife and mother in a cottage in the village of Galliard, France, and marched away together to fight the Germans.

The elder Rey, more brilliant, won medals and promotions. His son, however, was content to fight quietly by his father's side.

One day the task fell to the elder Rey's section to bomb out a German machine gun which had held up the progress of the section. Father and son advanced side by side as usual. Two bullets struck the father, but did not stop him. A third struck him in the head and he fell dead just as another bullet mortally wounded his son. They died almost at the same moment.

10-ROUND BOUTS TO BE LEGALIZED SOON IN ILLINOIS, BELIEF

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 10.—The boxing bill legalizing ten-round no-decision bouts was taken to the Senate today, where it is expected to pass after a fight. The bill went through the house yesterday with 85 votes, or seven more than necessary. It places the sport under a commission of three appointed by the governor and licenses both the boxers and the clubs where the bouts are held.

NEW ORLEANS FORMS LATIN-AMERICAN CLUB

NEW ORLEANS, May 10.—As evidence of an awakening spirit for co-operation between the United States and South American republics, committees of the Foreign Trade Bureau of the New Orleans Association of Commerce are organizing a "Latin American Club" for the purpose of promoting friendly relations between New Orleans merchants and those of South America.

SAVE BOTTLES, URGES AGRICULTURAL DEPT.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Fearing a shortage of preserving jars and cans, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued a warning against use of such jars for packing products that can be preserved in other ways. Saving of all bottles for use in preserving fruit juices is urged, and housewives are requested to dry and evaporate all such products as apples, pumpkins and squash.

In a picturization of the great stage success

"THE DUMMY"

Produced by the Famous Players Film Company.

In this production Jack Pickford attains the greatest success of his entire career, his work in "The Dummy" places him in the first ranks of stardom, proving his ability of sharing equal fame with his sister Mary. The play in its picturized form presents an astonishing blending of comedy and melodrama—lively action, surprise punches and delightful human colorings keeping one's mind ever in a state of pleasurable excitement. "The Dummy" is a successful motion picture adaptation of a successful stage play. It is wholesome, and is calculated to send audiences away in a buoyant, satisfied mood. There is nothing distasteful, dreary or morbid to be found in it. The work of the director, Francis Grandin, is exceedingly skillful in the supervision of the cast and effective in atmosphere and general realism. In the star's strong support are Frank Losee, Edwin Stanley, Helen Greene, Ethelmary Oakland and Ruby Hoffman, the work of all being above cavi.

The topics in the "HEARST-PATHE NEWS" tonight will also be an interesting feature TO ALL PATRIOTIC AMERICANS—each subject is of vital interest to everyone.

School Boys Help Riverside Enterprise

The labor problem in Riverside has been at an acute stage a number of times since the entrance of this country into the war. There would have been a shortage whether the war situation had developed or not, but the fact that this country had decided to participate did cause a stringency among laborers of the type used in the citrus groves, due partially to a fear on the part of Mexicans that their country might become involved with the United States and also to a certain amount of hysteria on the part of Americans who feared the foreign population might cause trouble. The school boys from the high school and Sherman Institute have done much to brighten the situation. They continue to be a shortage of men.

In the northern parts of the state the school authorities in some districts have decided to close schools in those periods of harvest that will conflict with school periods and to utilize students as far as possible. It has been suggested that something of that sort might be attempted in Riverside next year, should there appear to be a shortage of help during the orange rush. As a usual thing, it would not be feasible to consider the closing of schools in order that students might work. During war times, however, and when economic conditions may be such that such service is absolutely necessary, school authorities would be justified in closing the schools for as long a period as might be necessary for the use of school boys in saving a valuable harvest and packing.

New Educational Standards Needed

Joseph R. Grundy in American Industries.

I see about me a number of employers. How many of you when you hire a young person whom you later expect to develop as stenographers, clerks or bookkeepers, and who have just been turned out of the public schools or high schools as finished products, are satisfied that they are "skilled" or that their "mental powers have been developed and disciplined to effective action?" Our stenographers cannot spell, our embryo bookkeepers are often weak in arithmetic, and too frequently, it is necessary for the busy employer to begin anew the training which is essential to the conduct of a commercial or industrial establishment and which the schools should have provided before the boy or the girl was ready to apply for work.

And while the schools do not give us good spellers, good writers and good figures, they do teach countless thousands of our juveniles to despise industry. The mills and factories of our country are not recruited from the schools. On the contrary, they are depleted by the schools so that now, on account of the cessation of immigration upon which we have so long been dependent, we are confronted with a labor shortage in America which is decidedly serious.

Can the schools and colleges afford to view this situation lightly or as one with which they have no proper concern? Do they realize that in the decades that have elapsed since they began their cloistered mission, the United States has changed from an agricultural nation to a manufacturing nation? Do they know that the value of manufactured products in this country last year was approximately $30,000,000,000 as compared with agricultural products amounting to only $12,000,000,000? Do they realize that three individuals depend upon manufacturing for their bread and butter, to every one who scratches his livelihood out of the soil?

Does the country dare to toy with such a vital matter? It must be that it does not understand; that it has not awakened to the crucial nature of the situation which confronts industry today and to the fundamental importance of industry to the American people.

Let us train our children to work. There will always be enough for the gentlemen's jobs. There will always have been. The state could get along without a lawyer, or an author, or a teacher, or an artist if it had to, but it must have the strong-armed, strong-backed toilers who keep the wheels of industry turning. Without them we should go unclothed, unfed, unsheltered in a state approximating that of the stone age. A dream you say? Have you noticed the quick transpositions from highly developed civilization to primal chaos in the war regions of Europe, following the interruption of industrial pursuits? It is not a dream, as we have been prone to imagine in the midst of our opulence. It is not impossible here. It is not even unlikely. It may not be remote.

Man never built anything that man cannot tear down. The civilization of ours has been built, and it can also be destroyed by our own complacent fatuity. It is for the educators of our land to look facts in the face, and to attune themselves to existing conditions.

JOHN DEWEY, TEACHER

Interesting Subject of Review
By Miss Carter Before
Book Review Club

"John Dewey, Teacher of Teachers," was the subject of the paper given by Miss Luvicy Carter before the Book Review section of the Ebell at the W. B. Tedford home Tuesday evening. The subject was sympathetically and enthusiastically treated by Miss Carter, who was particularly fitted for her task because she herself has devoted much of her life to teaching.

The influence of John Dewey was first felt about 1887, when he started the pedagogical world with his psychology. In the laboratory school of the University of Chicago, Professor and Mrs. Dewey had for several years a free hand in developing and trying out their theories. Their aim was to utilize instead of suppress the fourfold impulses of childhood, the interest in conversation, the interest in inquiry, the interest in construction and the interest in artistic expression.

Not only did Dewey advocate the rejection of the strict discipline prevailing in the schools, but he introduced industrial training, not merely to improve the pupil's chance of getting a job or to teach them to work with their hands, but to enable them to have a broader understanding of life.

Many of those ideas of Dewey's, which were so new and startling in the nineties, are being carried out in a dozen or so places today. Mr. Wirt, who organized the school system of Gary, Ind., owes his inspiration and ideas, he says, very largely to John Dewey.

Dewey's primary interest has always been the development of a type of ethical thinking and method of school training suited to the democratic and industrial society of modern America.

Since 1904 Professor Dewey has been at Columbia University. Beside his class work he has always been active, though rarely conspicuous in many educational and social movements.

He is so little to be so loved!
He came unbooted, ungarnished,
ungloved,
Naked and shameless,
Beggared and blameless,
And for all he could tell us, even

Yet every one in the house bows down
As if the mendicant wore a

He is so little to be so loud!
O, I own I should be wondrous

If I had a tongue
All swivelled and swung,
With a double-back action twin-

Which brought me victuals and

FREEDMAN, INDIA

Topics of Interest For First Presbyterian Mission Society Yesterday

A large attendance was present at the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. W. W. Anderson was in charge of the devotionals, and dwelt upon the attributes of a loyal Christian.

Mrs. Nord, secretary of temperance, in her talk upon the work, deplored the acts of some branches of the Red Cross in calling for cigarettes for the soldier boys.

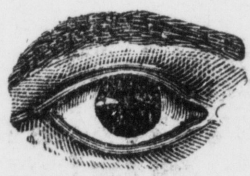

Mrs. E. L. Morrison was leader for the afternoon, the subjects being, "The Freedman," and "India."

Mrs. L. B. Lauderbach gave interesting facts concerning the freedman, and closed her remarks with extracts from the letters of a personal friend, who is a missionary in India.

Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Harry Lewis gave interesting and encouraging reports from the presbytery, after which Mrs. H. A. Allen read a beautiful exposition of the 23rd Psalm, written by an Indian.

The secretary of missionary instruction, Mrs. R. J. Blee, read an exceedingly helpful letter from Mrs. Stewart, who is with her daughter, Mary Stewart McFarlane, in Korea, showing the wonderful efficacy of prayer. Mrs. Blee closed the afternoon's program with the history of the life of the society's own missionary in China, Miss Grace Rowley, who sails for home next July.

TEACHERS HOSTESSES

Lincoln School Dedagogues
Charmingly Entertain Faculty Grammar Grades

One of the most pleasant of the week's social events was the children's party given last night at Lincoln school, when the teachers at that building were hostesses to the teachers of the grammar grades of the city.

In order to see how it felt to be children again, the dedagogues wore short dresses, bobbed hair, curls and braids and—some were the cutest kind of boys. Sam Stein arrived on the scene when the joys were at their height and took some snap shots.

The room used for the evening's entertainment were transformed into a bower of delicate color. In the kindergarten room, there was a canopy of wisteria, made by the children, and arranged with fern streamers, with butterflies, also the children's handiwork, fluttering about. Huge bouquets of exquisite Scotch broom occupied the corners, and places upon the piano and desk.

In the hall, the decorations were placed artistically by George Conkey, the plant-oving janitor, who had arranged beautiful ferns and potted plants with paper lavender and pink sweet peas, made by the kindergarten.

The pretty court with its overhanging and fresh-leaved greenery, was alight with the soft glow of vari-colored Japanese lanterns.

The time was passed with folk dancing, children games and singing and in one of the cheerful class rooms, where ice cream and cake were served, kindergarten tables were formed in a hollow square and the "little folk" already for the cats, marched in, carrying their tiny red chairs. The cake was fashioned in the form of chickens and about each table there was a parade of animal crackers. About fifty-five were present to enjoy the delightful affair.

MILLINGS-STUECKLE

Mid White Roses and Yellow
Coreopsis, Wedding Ceremony Is Performed

One of the prettiest of the many spring weddings was that which yesterday afternoon made Miss Frances Stueckle the bride of Jack Millings of Orange. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Dausser at Placentia. The rooms were beautiful with a wealth of La Marc roses and golden coreopsis, and one corner of the living room had been transformed into a charming bower of asparagus fern with the white roses and the coreopsis, and it was here that the young couple exchanged their marriage vows.

Two very tiny, blue-eyed, golden-haired cousins of the bride, little Misses Florence and Dorothy Dausser, in the frilliest of white frocks with yellow sashes and bows of yellow tulle topping their curls, preceded the bride as flower maidens, and the wedding ring was carried on its yellow satin cushion by small Vincent Dausser. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Frank Dausser, the bride entered on the arm of her uncle. She made a winsome picture in her gown of shimmering white taffeta and beautiful veil with its wreath of orange blossoms, and she was attended by Miss Katherine Kramer, attired in yellow taffeta and carrying yellow roses. The groom was attended by Joseph Stueckle, and the beautiful marriage service of the Roman Catholic church was read by Father John Gallagher of St. Mary's church at Fullerton.

After a merry wedding supper the bride tossed her bouquet of bride roses and ferns into a group of her friends, and it was caught by Miss Ollie Eimers.

After a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Millings will be at home in Orange, where Mr. Millings is a well known young business man. Many beautiful and valuable presents were given the young couple by their hosts of friends, whose best wishes followed them to their new home.

Farewell to Friends
Misses Irene Miller and Grace Johnson were hostesses on Monday evening at a pleasant farewell courtesy to Misses Elizabeth Spahr, Neva Sturdevant and Margaret Walkinshaw, who left yesterday for extended eastern trips.

DELIGHTFUL DINNER

Five Hostesses Entertain Honoring Miss Rae McKean, Charming Bride-Elect

Miss Rae McKean, who has been honored with many charming social courtesies in compliment to her approaching marriage to Judge John P. Talbot of Brooklyn, Iowa, in June, was the honoree on Tuesday evening at a delightful dinner party, at which Misses Bessie Lewis, Hattie Whidden, Lulu Ott, Alice Gail and Leslie Smith were hostesses.

Dinner was served at six-thirty, the color motif being yellow. The table with its pretty appointments was centered with a May basket overflowing with Scotch broom, with butterflies of the same tint fluttering about. The places were also marked with butterflies and the delicious cocktail was served in May baskets.

Following the dainty dinner, the guests lingered long over the pleasant scene, and Miss McKean was given a shower of lovely miscellaneous gifts from her friends. The packages were presented in a huge May basket.

The guest list included the following: Misses Herbert Rankin, John Sauers, Asa Hoffman and Morris Moody of Montana; Misses Rae McKean, Helen McKean, Vanche Plumbo, Wagner, Rice of Los Angeles, Robbie Jones, Berta Armstrong, Mary Gail, Estella Daniel, Mayme Buck, Bessie Hill, Mary Smart, Alice Trickey, Suzanne Claycomb, Edith Ward, Fannie Smart and Inez Cloyes.

"Public Library Work," Miss Jeanette McFadden, Public Librarian, Santa Ana.

—O—
Married in Los Angeles

Tuesday evening was solemnized the wedding of attractive Miss Ruth Sidney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Sidney, and Donald McCord Baker of Santa Ana, the Rev. C. H. Spaulding officiating at the home of the bride's parents, St. Charles road and Vineyard avenue.

Easter lilies and a profusion of vivid emerald foliage beautified the living room, where the ceremony was performed, an aisle of bay trees leading to the lily studded altar, while the ceiling was partially hidden in streamers of asparagus plumosus.

In the dining room a pretty motif of pinks, roses and maidenhair was used, dainty bridal souvenirs decorating the table effectively.

The bride wore a gown of white satin veiled in tulle and lace, orange blossoms holding her full wedding veil in place, while an arm bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley was carried by her.

Miss Edna Powell, in a frock of pale green satin and tulle acted as maid of honor, her flowers being a sheaf of pink roses and ferns, while small Dorothy Anna Boyer carried the ring in a white rosebud.

David Sidney, Jr., stood with the bridegroom, Malcolm Baker and Douglas Baker serving as ushers.

After the ceremony a dainty supper was served on the enclosed verandas, the guests including the close friends and relatives asked to witness the ceremony.

On their return from an extended wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Baker will make their home in Santa Ana.

The bride, a member of the Etno Nous and a graduate of the University of Southern California, has had many pre-nuptial courtesies extended her since her engagement became known. —Los Angeles Tribune.

EFFICIENCY CLUB OF GAS COMPANY HEARS
'SAFETY FIRST' TALK

"Safety First" was the paramount issue last evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Efficiency Club of the Southern Counties Gas Company, held at the newly remodeled office of the company, Fifth and Sycamore streets.

Fred C. Champion, formerly of this city, now of the Pomona district, was the principal speaker, his topic being "Appliances, and Safety First," a subject with which he is thoroughly familiar.

The social hour consisted of a violin solo by V. L. Hinkle and several vocal solos, the music being furnished by a player-piano, kindly donated for the evening by Carl Struck.

The meeting was followed by refreshments and games.

BECOMES ALARMED, HE DODGES THE OFFICERS

Cecil Sharpe slipped out of Orange county just as fast as he was able, for he judged that officers were on his trail.

The sheriff's office got word from El Centro to look out for Sharpe and R. W. Richmond, who was with him. They wanted Sharpe for a felony. It was found that the two rode here on a motorcycle bought by Sharpe from a boy at El Centro, to whom he gave a $140 no-fund check.

Richmond and the motorcycle were found here by Constable Heard and Deputy Sheriff Cravath, but Sharpe got word from a garage owner, who knew nothing of the serious charge against Sharpe, that his partner had gone to the courthouse. Sharpe, judged from that that his partner was under arrest, and Sharpe let no grass grow under his feet.

Richmond is a Riverside boy who has been travelling with Sharpe. There is no charge against Richmond.

BANDINI ELOPES TO
S. A. TO AVOID MOTHER

Robert Bandini, youthful heir to $300,000 of the $7,000,000 Baker estate in Los Angeles, and Miss Mary Harris, daughter of a preacher at Santa Rosa, were married here yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. A. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church.

The young couple eloped to Santa Ana, the young man's mother, Mrs. Ruth McMahon, of Los Angeles, having opposed his marriage. The lovers had been opposed in their marriage plans for over a year by the groom's mother. The bride is an attractive young woman and there was no objection to her character or family connections by the groom's mother. She objected to their marriage because of her son's age.

DO YOUR DUTY

AT THE COURTHOUSE

HE SAYS GARCIA THREATENED TO KILL MOLINO

Luis Manzo, Who Felt the Younger Garcia's Bullets, Chief Witness Today

Putting on scarcely any evidence, the defense of Jacinto Garcia, charged with murdering Reyes Molino in 1909, closed its case at 2 o'clock, and argument started.

Attorney Chapman summoned Ford A. Carpenter, weather man, to prove that it was not possible for Ferd Prince to have recognized Garcia when he saw a man where Molino was killed. District Attorney West says Carpenter's testimony proved a boomerang, for he said that at 8 o'clock on the night in question the moon was six days old and in the sky at an angle of 90 degrees.

Luis Manzo was the chief witness on the stand today in the trial of Jacinto Garcia, reputed leader of a faction of the Spanish-speaking population along Lincoln street.

Manzo has come to remember the Garcia. He carries some of their bullets in his huge body.

According to Manzo, once a well-known cement worker here, now a resident of San Diego, he was present in April, 1909, when Jacinto Garcia and Reyes Molino had a quarrel, in which Manzo tangled, too.

"I'll kill both of you before sundown."

Those are the words credited to Garcia by Manzo. Manzo said there was no question but that he and Molino were meant.

Half an hour later Manzo rode away in his buggy. Jacinto Garcia, son of Jacinto, on a bicycle followed, and emptied a revolver in Manzo's body. Manzo was left for dead, but he did not die.

A few hours later Molino was killed, and his body left on the Santa Fe tracks near Santa Clara avenue. Yesterday Ferd Prince of Orange testified that he recognized the elder Garcia at this point.

After the body of the dead Molino was found, officers were notified. Officer J. W. Murray, Sheriff C. E. Jackson and T. G. Cervantes, then an officer here, told of their search for the Garcias, who went to Mexico, of the bringing back and conviction of Jacinto for attempting to kill Manzo. Officer F. M. Dean told of the arrest of Garcia, upon whom he found a revolver and knife, a few weeks ago.

Arthur Lono gave clear testimony of Garcia's threats to kill Molino. Felipe Higuera said he loaned Molino 25 cents just before Molino left his house to go to a winery northeast of town. This evidence was given to explain how Molino happened to be where he was when he was killed.

Answer is Filed

Today an answer was filed by Attorneys F. C. Drumm and H. C. Head for C. G. J. of Orange, who is sued for $15,000 by the State Compensation Insurance Fund. The state fund carried insurance for employees of E. G. Holmes. Earl Summers, an employee, was injured in the collision of his motorcycle with Jern's machine. Jern alleges that Summers was to blame for the accident.

DISCOVERER OF NEW EXPLOSIVE SHADOWED BY TEUTONS, HE SAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—German secret service agents have been shadowing W. B. Barham, aged Southern Pacific railroad man, he declared today, because he claims to have discovered a new and highly powerful explosive. He declared it is four times as powerful as smokeless powder and that no nitrates are used in it.

Barham also declares German emissaries offered to take him to Germany aboard the submarine Deutschland and that one attempt was made to kidnap him. British agents have also sought his formula, he asserts.

PHONE MERGER DETAILS TO BE TOLD SHORTLY

Division Commercial Superintendent Admits Pact Is Nearly Reached

That the merging of the two telephone systems in this city is only a matter of time, that definite details will be made public within two weeks and that the Pacific Telephone Company will have complete charge of the local service, was definitely admitted today to a Register representative by C. F. Mason, division commercial superintendent of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Negotiations for merging the interests of the Pacific with the Union Home and Telegraph Company of Southern California have been in progress among the officials of the companies for some time, but officials have with the utmost regularity denied that such plans were under way.

The Union company operates in Ventura, Orange county, San Bernardino, Rialto, Highlands, Long Beach and San Pedro, and the merger will cover all these systems.

Ready In Two Weeks

"Officials of the two companies have been negotiating for some time," said Mason this afternoon, "and I believe that definite details of the merger will be made public within the next two weeks. At Santa Ana the Pacific will take over the business of the Home, while in other cities affected the Home may take over the management. Announcement of the merger of the two companies at Long Beach was made a few days ago. When the deal is completed the Home will have control there."

Mason would not say how soon the merger would become effective further than to say that it would not be delayed long. It is not expected that the two local offices will be consolidated immediately after the new order becomes effective, but trunk lines from one to the other will probably be installed giving an inter-switching service.

No Rate Increase

In all probability the merger will not result in an increase in phone rates. In the merger in Los Angeles one of the provisions under the permit from the Railroad Commission was that rates should not be raised under five years. Such conditions will probably attach to permission for consolidation here.

It is understood that delay in the erection of a new home at the corner of Fifth and Bush streets by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company has been delayed partly because of the probability of the two companies getting together on satisfactory terms. The company bought a lot and a half at the corner about a year and a half ago for the purpose of putting up a telephone building.

Consolidation of the two systems will eliminate extra expense and troubles to most of the business men of the city and announcement of the near conclusion of arrangements for the merger will be greeted with delight by them.

300 Phones Duplicated

About 300 telephones are duplicated in business houses and residences in this city at the present time, it is said.

The organization of the Southern California Telephone Company in Los Angeles, with officials of both companies identified with it in official capacities, will have no bearing on the consolidation of the two companies outside of Los Angeles.

The officers are: A. B. Cass, former president of the Home Company; president; J. C. Nowell, former general manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, with headquarters at San Francisco, first vice-president; H. D. Pillsbury, formerly head of the legal department of the Pacific, second vice-president; C. F. Mason, division commercial superintendent of the Pacific, commercial superintendent.

SHIPS DRIVING HORSE EAST FOR SUMMER USE

H. W. Lawrence has shipped his driving horse, Sunlight, by Murray M., to Meadville, Pa., where he will use the animal this summer during his visit there. The animal was shipped this week by fast freight over the Santa Fe, with C. W. Lawrence, a cousin of the owner, in charge.

H. W. Lawrence and wife will leave here about the 10th of next month for Meadville, to remain all summer.

Sunlight has a matinee record of 2:22. Lawrence has not determined yet whether he will keep the horse at Meadville permanently or ship him back home at the close of summer.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

CALM SETTLES UPON STORMY COURT CASE

Strange the Excited Litigants Had Never Thought of Getting Together

What started out to be a stormy session of court ended in a dead calm. It was excitement between junk dealers. Junk dealers seem to have more or less of a habit recently of disagreeing. This time it was Joe Brown who sued H. Cohen for $133.59 for some old iron snipped from Huntington Beach. Cohen in his answer admitted he owed Brown some money, but not $133.59.

Attorney G. H. Scott was on hand for Brown, and a Los Angeles attorney with a loud voice and a world of gesticulations tore up the earth for Cohen.

Justice Cox adjusted his specs, and gazed at the complaint and answer, and he suddenly discovered something.

"Why, Cohen," he said, "you admit you owe this man within $5 or $6 of the amount he claims. Why do you want to fight over this thing, take the time of this court, all these witnesses and yourselves over that small sum? I suggest that you folks get together and settle this."

Happy thought! They did it. They settled it in no time at all.

S. F. BAY CRAFT IDLE AS BOATMEN STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Seven out of eighteen bay and river steamers affected by the strike of bay and river boatmen were tied up today. Approximately 400 employees are on strike. Captain Anderson, president of the Steamboat Owners' Association, says three of the Southern Pacific river boats are fully manned while other companies have from one to four vessels operating.

A conference between the strikers and a chamber of commerce committee failed to bring a settlement.

ENCAMPMENT AT LONG BEACH TO DRAW CROWDS OF G. A. R.

Santa Ana Post Arranging Impressive Program For Memorial Day

SERMON TO VETERANS BE BY REV. H. W. PECK

Gathering of Post and Affiliated Organizations Is Pleasant Affair

This year when patriotism is upon the surface of every citizen's sentiments, a larger number of members of the G. A. R. than usual will attend the encampment of the Department of California and Nevada at Long Beach, starting on May 15. Since the encampment is so near, scores of Orange county veterans will attend daily.

With the country at war, unusual impressiveness will mark the always impressive services of Memorial Day.

This year the service at the Santa Ana Cemetery will be in charge of Sedgwick Post of Santa Ana, Gordon Granger Post of Orange having had charge last year. For years it has been the custom of the two posts to join in the exercises at the cemetery in which many of their comrades lie.

Sedgwick Post's commander, H. E. Smith, has appointed G. J. Mosbaugh, H. F. Stone and J. H. Gulick as a committee to make arrangements for Memorial Day exercises. That committee will have complete announcements ready for issuance within a few days. It has been determined that the sermon to the members of the G. A. R. on the Sunday before Memorial Day will be delivered this year at the First Methodist Church by Rev. H. W. Peck.

At Long Beach
 The department of California and Nevada, Grand Army of the Republic, will hold its annual encampment in

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

the city of Long Beach, from May 15 to 19. This will be the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the department. This reunion will include six separate allied societies, viz.: The Grand Army of the Republic, the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the Grand Army, the Sons of Veterans, the Daughters of Veterans, and the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary.

Delegates from all of these organizations from California and Nevada will be present. Besides these several thousand members and friends are expected. The daily sessions of the G. A. R. will be held in the auditorium. Public patriotic rallies will be held each night.

The official reception given by the city to its guests will be held in the auditorium on Tuesday night, and on Wednesday night in the Virginia hotel will occur the annual reception to the officers of all the organizations. On Wednesday forenoon will occur the annual parade of the veterans. It is expected to be the longest line of march seen for many years.

Many Orange county veterans will be in the parade.

The Post is Host

Sedgwick Post was host yesterday to the affiliated organizations, and a splendid afternoon's program was rendered. A beautiful piano duet by Mrs. Henry Moesser and Mrs. R. L. Paul was followed by a rousing address of welcome by Comrade Langley. "Wrap the Flag Around Me, Boys," was the title of a splendidly rendered vocal solo by Miss Freda Moesser.

A stirring oration upon "Patriotism" was given by City Attorney G. H. Scott.

Comrade Halstead amused his hearers by singing "I've Only Been Down to the Club."

"America" was sung, and following adjournment of the program, the comrades served ice cream and cake.

A detailed program for the Southern California Veterans' Association's encampment at Huntington Beach for ten days commencing August 7 is to be issued within a short time.

SEEKING TO RAISE $125,000 Y. M. C. A. FUND IN THE STATE

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—More than a thousand secretaries, officials, committeemen, and volunteer workers are preparing to take part in the statewide canvass for $125,000 for war work which the Young Men's Christian Association will inaugurate on May 21 for a period of ten days. Announcement was made today by the War Work Council of the California Y. M. C. A. that hundreds of the 25,000 members of the association in the state have rallied enthusiastically to the support of the national movement for $3,000,000 for Y. M. C. A. work among the soldiers. Hopes are even being entertained here of being able to shoot across the goal to the extent of $25,000 or more.

Members of President Wilson's cabinet and officials of the army and navy have endorsed the present national campaign of the Young Men's Christian Association and large sums are now being contributed in many eastern states and cities. Every state in the union is raising funds for the humanitarian work which the thousand Y. M. C. A. secretaries have volunteered to carry on. Recent entries are the following, together with the sums they will raise to be contributed toward the $3,000,000 fund: North Dakota, $10,000; Arizona, $15,000; Florida, $25,000; Virginia, $75,000; Missouri, $100,000; Connecticut, $150,000; Ohio, $250,000; New York, $750,000.

The Y. M. C. A. at Presidio plans to carry on a complete program for 2,500 officers in training.

Nearly one hundred California secretaries are to be furnished in the present mobilization of secretaries for war work. Of this number, Los Angeles will send six to the front, and San Francisco is contributing twelve. Many other secretaries throughout the state have volunteered to serve in a similar capacity.

J. G. Warren of Los Angeles was this week named vice-chairman of the War Work Council of this state, an organization numbering more than a hundred prominent business and professional men. During the present week thirty-seven Y. M. C. A. organizations of the state are holding meetings for the promotion of the campaign.

TUSTIN FOLK INJURED IN LA HABRA CRASH

LA HABRA, May 10.—Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Awe of Tustin were injured near La Habra when their automobile was run into by Dr. I. G. McBeth of the Leffingwell ranch. Dr. McBeth was traveling south on the boulevard when his car skidded and turned completely around, hitting the car occupied by the Tustin people.

Mrs. Awe was thrown from the car and suffered some injuries that were not considered very serious. The cars were damaged and later taken to La Habra for repairs.

TROUBLE ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED

Fathers and mothers worry over a child with a chronic cough. Knud Lee, Wannaska, Minn., writes: "For several years my daughter had a bad chronic cough. Every time she caught a little cold, it aggravated the trouble. We tried many medicines, but not until we tried Foley's Honey and Tar did anything produce any great relief. In a few days the trouble entirely disappeared and has never returned." Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough.

ORANGE DEFEATS POLY 3 TO 1 IN EXTRA INNING SCRIMMAGE

Citrus Men Now Lead League, With Locals and Fullerton Tied For Second

Hitting when hits counted and displaying real base-running ability, Orange High school succeeded in annexing the protested squabble of some two weeks ago in the play-off yesterday, 3 to 1 in ten rounds. This places Orange at the top of the ladder with Fullerton and Poly tied for second. Should the citrus men whip the oil diggers Saturday, then Santa Ana and Orange must enter the final series. If Fullerton wins, then it will result in a three-cornered play-off.

Coach Smith's youthful freshman heaver, "Kid" Burke, was on the hilllock yesterday and the boy heaved brilliant baseball. In fact he gave the best demonstration of real hurling delivered here this year. In nine frames he allowed only two measly bingles, one a scratch bunt in the first spasm and the other a clean poke to right in the ninth. In the tenth, however, he weakened and three healthy drives were productive of two tallies and the game. Burke easily battered Hinrichs, who was hit hard and was in hot water most of the time. Inability to touch Hinrichs in the pinches lost the tussel for the locals.

Both schools lost opportunities to score in the first fracas. Orange got two men on bases with none down but Burke steadied and forced out three in rapid succession. For Poly Raney was safe on Keuchel's poor heave to first, but was nicked stealing as Friend whiffed. Tyrrell and Vanderlip got on through errors and worked their way around to third and second, respectively, but Holzgrafe took three pokes at the atmosphere for the third out.

Orange scored first in the ninth. With one away, Potter singled to right and stole second. On a wild pitch he advanced to third. Farrar popped to Tyrrell. Potter scored when a curve escaped Catcher Holzgrafe. Keuchel fled to Raney.

Things looked dark indeed when Smith's hirelings took the bat in the last of the frame. Vanderlip gained a life on Keuchel's error Holzgrafe popped to the visiting short. Paul Jones then laced out the longest hit of the day, a beautiful three-sacker, to deep center, scoring Vanderlip. Jones was nipped off third a minute later and Ober fanned.

The visitors put the melee on ice in a few minutes, however. With one down, Coffman singled infield and advanced on a passed ball. Loescher doubled to right center, scoring Coffman. Bustillos fanned but Hinrichs, who had been easy meat in both previous games, laid out a single to right, tallying Loescher. Clabby went out, Vanderlip to Ober.

Despite a two-run handicap Poly gave a good account of herself in her part of the same round. Bryan put down a perfect bunt and beat it out. Burke, however, hit into a double play. Bustillos to Keuchel to Nuffer. Raney singled cleanly to right but Morrison fled to Keuchel for the last out.

BABES NEGLECTED, DECLARES DOCTOR

CINCINNATI, O., May 10.—Delegates to the national convention of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis were told today that thus far the propaganda of the organization had neglected the babies.

"A tuberculous mother," said Dr. Alfred F. Hess of New York, gives birth to a healthy and normal baby and promptly, within the next few months, infects it with tuberculosis so that its chance of reaching the age of childhood is slight. If we are to progress in our fight against tuberculosis, these infants must be looked after."

Dr. Hess said the best plan was to separate the babies from their diseased mothers during the first days of life.

Dr. H. Kennon Dunham of this city spoke of the value of the X-Ray in exposing false "cures" and in making exact surgical operations in the chest.

The so-called "gold cure" for tuberculosis was discussed by Dr. Lydia M. DeWitt of the University of Chicago, who said salts of gold, though reported to have given favorable results, were still experimental as to tuberculosis cure and should not be used on human patients.

The surgeon's knife may check tuberculosis of the bowels, prolong life, but will not effect a permanent cure, said Dr. Edward Archibald of Montreal.

Dr. Donald B. Armstrong declared that it is possible to discover and place under control every case of tuberculosis in a manufacturing community, and eventually rid it of the disease by discovering the social and economic causes—and removing them. In a town of 10,000 population this is being done, he said, by the means of a fund of $100,000 donated by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

"If tuberculosis is to be prevented, every community must know exactly how many of its citizens lack food, clothing, shelter, recreation, and medical care," said Wilbur C. Phillips, secretary of the National Social Unit Organization.

BRYAN URGES SUPPORT OF U. S. WAR POLICIES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—William Jennings Bryan, ex-secretary of state, is in San Francisco today and tonight under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association will speak in Dreamland Kink urging support for the administration of President Wilson in its war policies. Bryan now is engaged in a western speaking tour.

CHINA TO HONOR JOHN HAY WITH MONUMENT

WASHINGTON, May 10.—China is preparing to honor the memory of John Hay, founder of the policy of the open door, as no other foreigner has ever been honored in China.

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese minister here, was advised today by one of the leaders of the Chinese senate that a bill had been introduced in the parliament and was virtually assured of passage for the erection of a monument to the former American secretary of state in the Central park of Peking.

John Hay is regarded by the Chinese as one of the best friends that country ever had. In the last years of the nineteenth century there was a scramble among the European powers to obtain concessions of territory and spheres of influence. Hay, by announcing that the United States stood for equal commercial privileges in China for all nations, and for the integrity and independence of that country, practically put a halt to the movement.

ILLINOIS CAVALRY IS BEST EQUIPPED

CHICAGO, May 10.—The First Illinois cavalry is better equipped, so far as machine guns go, than any other cavalry regiment, regular or militia, in the United States.

So declare inspecting officers of the regular army. When the regiment was sent to the border last year it didn't have a single machine gun. The government didn't have any to supply it, and factories couldn't furnish them because their entire output had been contracted for by foreign governments. The state department declined to ask one of the —Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrous.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure or mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

'PARROT FEVER' SEIZES STORE CLERKS

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 10.—An epidemic of a peculiar fever has baffled the medical profession of Wilkes-Barre. The outbreak is confined almost wholly to the clerks in the Boston store, the largest department store in the city. The situation has become so alarming that the state department of health sent doctors and investigators and a conference was begun with the Luzerne Medical society to take steps to determine what the disease is and how to fight it.

Doctors who have been attending the Boston store clerks admit that they have been unable to diagnose the cases. They say it may prove to be typhoid fever, a violent form of grip, typhus fever or "parrot" fever, a disease of which little is known.

The epidemic started ten days ago. Shortly before this a large number of Mexican parrots had been on sale in the store, and when the epidemic began to spread among the clerks the belief was that it was a fever carried by the parrots.

MANIAC KIDNAPER TIES BOY IN CELLAR

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—In a weakened condition and barely able to speak, 5-year-old Nathan Piott, son of Nathan Piott, a contractor, who had been missing from his home for three days, was found fortunately by the police.

Sergeant Nason discovered the child when passing the unoccupied house at 520 Carpenter street. He heard moans coming from the cellar. Breaking down the front door of the house, Sergeant Nason went to the cellar and found the boy in a corner, with his legs and arms tied with wire. Lifting the semi-conscious child in his arms, the sergeant carried him out of the cellar. A patrol wagon was summoned and the boy was taken to Mt. Sinai hospital.

At the hospital the boy lost consciousness. His weakened condition is said by the physicians at the hospital to be due to the want of food and water. In the rooms of the house were found butts of cigarettes and cigars used by the kidnaper.

A man who had been seen in the neighborhood during the last three days is being sought by the police. He is believed to be a maniac, as there was no apparent reason for the kidnapping of the boy.

LATE POPE LEO XIII READ DANTE IN BED

NEW YORK, May 10.—The recent death of Mr. Marzolini, for thirty years secretary to Pope Leo XIII, extending through his service as Cardinal Pecci and as the head of the church, has brought to light an interesting story of the dead pope.

As cardinal he took his secretary with him on all of his religious visits, and on one occasion, at a small out-of-the-way hamlet, the parish priest could furnish only one room for the two. So, Mr. Marzolini slept on a sofa in the corner. Each night on going to bed he took out a copy of Dante and read a canto of "Il Paradiso." When he came to a difficult or interesting passage he would read it to his secretary and discuss it with him. The secretary did not take intense interest in Dante as did the cardinal, and often he was sleepy. After a few nights he decided to put an end to it. When the cardinal, as usual, read a passage and asked his opinion, the only answer he got was a snore.

"The man has no taste who can fall asleep while Dante is being read," ejaculated the future pope in disgust.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, May 10.—Mrs. A. A. Bennett, the president of Chapter S. P. E. O. society and Mrs. C. M. Donley as delegate left for Hollywood yesterday to attend a three-day session of the State Grand Chapter convention of the P. O. E. sisterhood, being held this week. This convention will be held in Orange next year in the month of May.

Mrs. C. E. Lush is now visiting her mother in Camden, N. J. Before going to Camden Mrs. Lush spent some time in Washington, where she attended some sessions of congress, when the war question was being discussed.

Mrs. Ruhlen, who has many times been a visitor of Orange, and who has spent the last two months here and in Southern California, left for her home in Plain City, Ohio, Tuesday night in Parkerhouse rolls, coffee and wienies were much in evidence if the fish were not. The party included Mr. and Mrs. M. E. White, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Clark F. Meade, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Burkett, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Claypool, Mrs. Emily V. Reed, Janita Meade and Vivian and Lawrence Wolfe.

The little fish were not so plentiful at Balboa Tuesday evening, but the people were. Among the Orange people there were Sam Miller and wife, Victor Sutton and family, Henry McLean and John McCarthy and wife. They reported a very large crowd, almost 500, but few and very small fish. The O. D. O. Club tried its luck last evening.

Mrs. Elizabeth Braisher and Miss Emma Braisher, Mrs. A. L. Hitchcock and Mrs. William Holt spent yesterday with Mrs. Sherman Gillogly.

Mrs. Ray Billingsley, who has been visiting in the northern part of the state, is unable to return on account of a severe attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. E. E. Ellsworth and daughter, Caryll, of Bakersfield, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Walling, 128 South Cambridge street.

Carl Porter and wife and W. E. Winterrowd and wife went to Little Bear Lake for a fishing trip today.

Sherman Gillogly of Fullerton was here on business, driving a new Studebaker touring car.

Wayne McGill, Rexford McGill, Roscoe Schaffert and Gifford Rowland motored to Modjeska's Sunday.

S. B. Edwards made a business trip to Hollywood and Los Angeles.

Amel Norden is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Norden.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gollagher motored to Los Angeles.

George Wilhite's little daughter, Thelma, has been seriously ill.

P. A. Ristow has returned home from a short visit in Riverside.

John Wing is getting along nicely with his broken arm.

W. Faehner made a business trip to Los Angeles.

Mrs. M. L. Memmter spent a day in Los Angeles.

Joe Rowley of Los Angeles was in Orange on business.

Mrs. P. A. Harlow, of Tulare, came to Orange on her way to the Anaheim Sanitarium, where she was to be operated on today.

Dr. C. J. K. Jones, G. N. Atwood and C. W. Post attended a meeting of the California Fruit Exchange in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Bell Howard of Los Angeles spent the last week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Wilhite.

LUMBERMEN FIND ADVERTISING PAYS

CHICAGO, May 10.—Lumbermen of the United States have come to a full realization of the great value of practical advertising and of trademarking their products. "The result attained in the last year through advertising and trademarking have meant much to the industry," he said.

GERMAN DYES ARE NOT NEEDED FOR U. S. ARMY

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Uncle Sam's soldier millions will be clad in khaki cloth of the same color as formerly, and this fact will signalize another step in American independence—this time from Germany.

Army experts announced today discovery of a process through which satisfactory built dyes can be manufactured in this country from vegetable matter. Previously, all such dyes were "made in Germany."

Contracts for 12,500,000 yards of such khaki have been let by the army quartermaster general. Probably 10,000,000 yards will be needed soon.

CANADIAN NORTHERN TO BUILD U. S. BRANCH

SUPERIOR, Wis., May 10.—A new railroad from the Twin Ports to the Twin Cities is to be constructed by the Canadian Northern. Negotiations for the right of way in St. Paul and the last stretch of territory necessary at the other end of the line have been closed. Active construction of the line will begin at the close of the European war, according to officials, or as soon as material is available.

The present plans of the Canadian Northern, which has become the great transcontinental competitor of the Canadian Pacific, is to form a network of railroads tapping the wheat districts of the northwest.

Greenhouse conditions are severe tests of any lumber. California Redwood seems to be specially designed by Nature for this very use.

When thoroughly seasoned, Redwood assumes a permanent shape. It can be moist on one side and heated on the other and yet not warp. It is unaffected by the changes in temperature.

Makes stay-tight joints and leak-proof roof—Redwood sash is permanent and glass does not become loose and get broken.

Since Redwood contains a natural preservative, it does not have to depend for its durability on artificial preservatives.

BANKS OF STATE FOLLOW LEAD OF COUNTY BANKS

Many of the Larger Financial Institutions Decline to Loan On Torrens Titles

That most of the banks of the state have followed the lead of the Orange County bankers in declining to loan money on real estate where title is evidenced by Torrens title certificates has been disclosed by a canvass of the larger financial institutions of the state by the Los Angeles Realty Board.

The board recently sent out letters to all its members advising them of the result of its investigation and calling their attention to the fact that many of the banks have declined to loan money on real estate held under Torrens titles.

It is said that the replies received by the board were practically unanimous, coming from all sections of the state.

"The Torrens law can be made a good law by proper amendments," said a local banker today, "and in time the objectionable features in the present form will undoubtedly be eliminated. When that is done it will probably be the prevailing method of vesting title."

OFFICE BOY FAMINE FACED IN BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—San Francisco is facing an office boy famine.

There "ain't none," J. B. McLoughlin of the state employment bureau reports that requests for office boys go unfilled because no applicants have applied.

"Remember the time," said McLoughlin, when a small newspaper ad drew from ten to forty. Today you can't find an office boy. I don't know where they've gone."

"I have several orders for office boys here," he added, "and can't fill them. I think the day of the 'office girl' to replace the boy has arrived."

FEATURE STORY FOR THIS DAY BY UNITED PRESS

BY HENRY WOOD (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, April 10 (by mail)—The service of Agriculture is now one of the regular branches of the French army.

It is just as much an integral part of the French military machine as a whole as is the infantry, the cavalry, the artillery, the engineers or the aviation.

Military agriculture is one of the latest developments of modern warfare along with such things as gas masks, the rehearsing of battles before they are fought and aerial torpedoes. While the present great European conflict has demonstrated that war must ever be destructive, and probably more destructive than ever before, yet the constructive basis on which the French seek to conduct it has developed numerous possibilities for lessening and repairing the destructiveness.

In a general way the object of this Service of Agriculture is to keep the farming in the entire war zone and especially in the immediate vicinity of the front lines up to its normal and maximum productiveness. It is now as much the duty of every soldier in the French army to help in these agricultural labors, as it is to fight, while the army as a whole contributes not only the farm laborer but also the horses and even part of the implements necessary.

Three General Classes The agricultural work to be done in the war zone divides itself into three general classes. First of all the extending of enough help to the farmers still living in the zone to enable them to plant and harvest their crops. Secondly, nearer the front where the civil population has been obliged to flee entirely and where the farms are completely abandoned, the army must take over the ground and cultivate it itself in precisely the same manner as though the farmers themselves were still there. Thirdly, as fast as French soil is won back from the Germans the Agricultural Service must undertake the restoring of this ground to a state of fertility and the planting of it in crops at the earliest possible moment.

Every general commanding on the French front is required to divide his portion of the war zone into sections, each one comprising on an average twenty to twenty-five villages or farming communities. In addition to the general officers that are designated for the administration of the agricultural service an under-officer, who is chosen because of his agricultural fitness, is assigned to each section and remains permanently in charge of the agricultural work there, regardless of where his regiment may be moved afterward.

Work Needed is Listed

In the meantime the prefect of each department in the war zone is required to make out a list of all agricultural work that needs to be done, together with the degree of urgency and place it at the disposition of the military officer in charge of each section. The prefect must also provide the tools and the grain and seed for sowing.

Entirely regardless of whether the troops stationed in a given sector are there for repose or whether they are there for fighting, they must perform the agricultural labor that is waiting to be done. Likewise when troops are on the march, if they stop in any section, even for only two or three days, they must participate in farm labor under way.

When the troops move on they leave a report with the permanent military agricultural officer in charge showing just what they have done so that when the next troops come along they can take up the work where the others left off.

One and only one iron clad rule has been adopted by the military authorities and that is that under no circumstances whatever must a military troop, whatever its size may be, passing through a given sector where there is agricultural work to be done, leave that sector without the work being further advanced than when it came in.

Must Furnish Horses

The army must furnish horses, either from the cavalry, the artillery or the supply trains, whenever horses are needed. The mechanics attached to the army are also required to assist the farmers in the shoeing of their horses and in the repairing of their agricultural implements.

Not the least interesting phase of this service is that it has been incorporated into the English and Belgian armies now fighting on French soil in precisely the same manner. English Tommies back of the Somme are now cultivating French fields with precisely the same ardor as they are fighting the "Boches" a few miles farther in advance. At the few points where Belgian contingents are stationed on French soil the same system is in progress and as a consequence there is no place in all France today where more men are being employed in agricultural pursuits than in that precise strip of territory within both the roar and the rage of the big guns that extend from the Belgian coast to the Swiss frontier.

COFFEE CROP NOW IS WORTH DOUBLE

BY H. B. ROBERTSON (United Press Staff Correspondent) RIO DE JANEIRO, April 16 (by mail)—After forty years of chemical research, a way has been found to double the already enormous value of the coffee crop by manufacturing by-products from the coffee berry husk.

One of the by-products—manita—properly combined with nitrogen, makes an explosive of about the same power as dynamite or fulminate of mercury, and markets at about $10 per kilogram.

The average coffee crop of the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, is ten million sacks of 132 pounds each, representing a value of more than $80,000,000. This value is in coffee without the by-products.

Dr. Pedro Baptista de Andrade, the chemist, already has begun manufacturing the by-products, which he discovered. He proposed to produce 30,000,000 liters of alcohol, 360,000 kilograms of manita and 36,000 kilograms of caffeine. Caffeine is a drug commanding a price of about 10 cents a gram. Alcohol is sold here at about 12 cents a liter.

Dr. Andrade's process is to treat by distillation processes the coffee berry husk, which heretofore has been discarded as useless.

Because of the war-made demand for explosives and alcohol, the new industry is expected to jump quickly into prosperity.

BURBANK CROWNS ROSE FETE QUEEN

SANTA ROSA, May 10.—Luther Burbank, famed plant wizard, will crown Miss Irene Baccigalupi as Queen Irene of Santa Rosa's annual Rose Carnival tonight at the Queen's Ball, which will mark the opening of three days of patriotic festivity in Santa Rosa.

Beginning with the crowning of the Queen tonight, Santa Rosa will be given over to the festival spirit. The Rose, Santa Rosa's bower, will hold high place in the carnival. The city is ablaze with flaming colors of blooming roses at this season of the year—without a festival as an added attraction, a sight worth seeing.

The Rose Carnival this year differs from former years in that the patriotic note has been made one of predominance. The proceeds of the festival will be divided between the Red Cross and the Mess Fund of the Santa Rosa Company of the National Guard, now in federal service.

After the crowning of Queen Irene and the Queen's Ball which formally initiates the festival, each day will have a distinctive program. Tomorrow afternoon Luther Burbank will crown the juvenile queen of the carnival, little Miss Julia Katherine Edwards, a baby and flower show to follow. In the evening a juvenile chorus of 2000 voices will give a patriotic concert in the open air. Saturday morning the carnival parade, with two miles of flower-decorated floats and automobiles, will be the first feature, followed by the Northwestern Sub-league track meet with 100 high school athletes competing. In the evening an illuminated patriotic parade will be held.

Sunday the festival will be brought to a close with the Floral Classic, the 100-mile automobile race for professional drivers.

Why We Sell Delaware Tires Unguaranteed

The dissatisfaction occasioned between the car owner and the tire manufacturer over unsatisfactory adjustments has created a big and constantly increasing demand for a good, unguaranteed tire. The honest tire purchaser and careful driver has learned that it is much cheaper to buy an unguaranteed tire and carry his own tire insurance than it is to pay an excessive price to help cover the unfair adjustments allowed dishonest, reckless and irresponsible drivers!

JETTY LAND DEAL DEADLOCK BROKEN

Work On Harbor Project Soon to Begin As Beach City, Ferguson Agree

NEWPORT BEACH, May 10.—Boosters of the Newport harbor project today are sanguine that a few weeks will see the commencement of actual work on the jetty, following the attainment of a compromise agreement on land transfer between the city and Joseph Ferguson, owner of acreage at the end of the sandspit.

A deadlock in the negotiations between the city and Ferguson, threatening a condemnation suit, has been broken and confidence is expressed that bids for building the jetty will be advertised and opened early in June and construction begun soon thereafter.

By the agreement, the city of Newport Beach will pay $900 an acre, or a total of about $11,500, for 12.80 acres at the sandspit's end. On this land will be built the land end of the jetty. The city also secures a forty-foot roadway from Central avenue, Balboa, to the tract for a railway track to be used in hauling material for the jetty. The threatened condemnation suit would have necessitated a delay of several months in the building of the jetty. Now that the compromise has been reached the prediction is made that the jetty will be completed by the first of the year.

A conference between City Attorney Clyde Bishop of Newport Beach, the harbor engineers and Ferguson and his attorneys and land agent resulted in the compromise. A mass meeting of citizens expressed itself as unanimously in favor of the compromise and the condemnation suit was halted. Bids were authorized advertised and these will be opened probably June 4, it is stated.

HIGH SCHOOL CHIEFS POWERLESS TO HALT CADET CORPS FORMING

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—No matter how much a high school principal in California may be opposed to military training; no matter how strong he is for pacifism, he cannot stop his school from organizing a company of cadets. He could simply "pocket veto" a petition for the organization of such a company under the old law but recent measures passed by the legislature divest him of such power.

Under the new law, when a majority of the students favor the organization, the principal will not be able to block the way. If he attempts it, the state's appropriation for that school will be cut off. Hence there would be no principal.

IMPORTANT HERITAGE TAX DECISIONS MADE

SACRAMENTO, May 10.—Three important court decisions involving the payment of inheritance taxes to the state have been announced by State Controller John S. Chambers.

The state is the winner in all three cases, the general ground for the state's action being the transfer of property in contemplation of death, obviously to dodge the inheritance tax. One decision was by Judge Rogers of Ventura, dealing with the estate of the late United States Senator Thomas R. Bard; another was by Judge Coffey of San Francisco in the estate of John Wright, and the third was by Judge Rivers of Los Angeles, in the estate of Cornelia Scarborough.

Boiling Points Determine Quality of Gasoline

"Then I might just as well throw my gravity hydrometer away?"

"You said it, Mr. Motorist."

"Listen, the boiling points of gasoline absolutely control its starting qualities, accelerating qualities, power-giving qualities. Gravity has nothing to do with it."

"To get the most out of your motor, your gasoline must have the correct series of boiling points in a gradually rising, unbroken chain—low boiling points for easy starting, medium boiling points for quick and smooth acceleration, high boiling points for power and mileage."

"And only straight-distillation can give this. No mixture can embody all the hundreds of intervening fractions necessary for a perfect motor fuel."
